

Tamara Dunaeff (2014) administers the master's and PhD programs at The Ohio State University College of Nursing as the Graduate Program Manager. After earning a B.A. from Ohio University, she is now pursuing a master's degree in Educational Studies at Ohio State. Tamara is currently completing several leadership training programs including the Mastery in Transformational Training (MITT) in which she earned this scholarship and looks forward to the opportunity to utilize these skills for the benefit of those in the ACE Ohio Women's Network and at The Ohio State University.